Jeet Khanna is a local goon who can speak various languages. He resides in the same area where Rani and her sister-in-law's Janki, Rajni and ___ stay together in a chawl. He is the goon of the chawl and although everyone is scared of him whenever anyone in the chawl has a problem, they go to him for help. The residents of the chawl pay him a haafta or protection money which he personally collects by going to each house every week. Jeet Khanna is a good person at heart but due to certain circumstances in his life, he has become a rebel and resorted to being a goon.

Will Jeet Khanna's face off with Rani bring more turmoil in her already frenzied life?
